THE MAGAZINE

Launched in Melbourne back in 1992, Rhythms quickly built a loyal following, many of whom have subscribed for more than quarter of a century.

More than 300 issues later, Rhythms magazine has established a reputation as Australia's Roots Music 'Bible'. Eagerly exploring almost anything to do with Blues, Roots, Folk, Americana, Jazz, Country and World Music, Rhythms is unique. It is cherished by its readers for its authority, credibility and diversity. Rhythms remains one of the few national music magazines in Australia and is now the only national general 'roots music' publication.

THE TEAM

On July 1, 2018, Rhythms returned to Melbourne and is once more under the guidance of Brian Wise, its original founder and editor. Brian also presents the award-winning radio program Off The Record on Triple R FM, networked across Australia on more than 45 community radio stations. The current writing team includes renowned music journalist Stuart Coupe, former Age EG Editor Jo Roberts, music historian Ian McFarlane, SMH writer Bernard Zuel, and former Rolling Stone Editor Michael Goldberg in San Francisco.

THE CONTENT

Rhythms offers a substantial and comprehensive reviews segment that includes albums, music books and music films. There are also features and profiles on local and international musicians and coverage of music festivals. The features on Australia's music history are unique. Rhythms writers have always been passionate advocates of the music.

ABOUT RHYTHMS MAGAZINE

SOCIALS

THE PODCAST

The Rhythms podcast features interviews with some of the best roots/Americana musicians in the world, in addition to historic interviews from the archives.

You can sponsor an episode and get your name to even more people.

EVENT COVERAGE

Rhythms prides itself on its music festival coverage, including a special Bluesfest edition with thousands of copies distributed free at the event! Our January/February edition focuses on WOMADelaide and Port Fairy and we will have a free distribution at the festivals. Our writers cover the Americana festival in Nashville, the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival, the SXSW Festival and the Old Settler's Festival in Austin, Texas, and more.

ONLINE

The Rhythms website (rhythms.com.au) currently drives 100,000 hits a month and has over 10,000 unique visitors per month. Plus, our weekly email newsletter is sent to over 2,000 subscribers, and another 3,000 readers on the mailing list as well as media personnel. Updated daily, rhythms.com.au publishes breaking news, reviews, as well as a sample of longer features from the print magazine.

How It Works

Rhythms Magazine proudly produces a special issue for March/April each year that focuses on Bluesfest and the Port Fairy Folk Festival.

This issue will be distributed free of charge at Bluesfest this Easter. It will be available at the gate and the Rhythms stall. Free copies will also be available at Port Fairy.

March/April Rhythms will be festival focused with features on some of the main artists and lost of information relevant to the magazine with longer features and exclusive interviews. It will be distributed nationally to its loyal subscribers and to newsagents across Australia. Advertising space is available in March/April Rhythms but considering the 2025-line up, advertising space will disappear as fast as tickets to Bluesfest 2025!
